

Unit of Competency RPL Nomination Form

This is the first step in the RPL process. The RPL Nomination Form allows you to nominate the units of competency you wish to apply for Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL). It is important when completing the RPL Nomination Form to refer to the Unit of Competency Explanation Guide which breaks down each unit of competency so you can make a more informed judgement on your suitability for RPL for each unit of competency.

The selection of units must be guided by the skills, knowledge and experience that you have gained throughout your career. Only YOU can determine what units to apply for RPL. As a general rule of thumb, if you are unsure about your RPL suitability for a unit of competency then you probably shouldn't include that unit on the RPL Nomination Form.

Important points:

- This is not a formal skills assessment or a qualification
- No payment is required during this stage of the RPL process
- Please refer to the Packaging Rules below if you are seeking RPL for the full qualification
- You must submit the completed Nomination Form along with all your relevant RPL evidence and documentation after you have paid the Initial Assessment Application Fee

Full Name:
Date of Birth:

HLTAID001 Provide CPR

Application

This unit of competency describes the skills and knowledge required to perform cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) in line with the Australian Resuscitation Council (ARC) Guidelines.

This unit applies to all workers who may be required to provide CPR in a range of situations, include community and workplace settings.

Specific licensing requirements relating to this competency, including requirements for refresher training should be obtained from the relevant state/territory Work Health and Safety Regulatory Authority.

Core units	Yes	No
HLTAID001 Provide CPR		